Parade Entrant Questions:

First, a note on safety:

Our concern is always for the safety of the crowd and most importantly, our children, at this event. With 40,000 to 50,000 people viewing the parade, the following safety procedures must be adhered to.

Absolutely no handing out flyers, candy or promotional items from the backs of floats.

If you wish to hand out anything, someone MUST walk the parade route. This eliminates the possibility of children rushing the float to get treats, which becomes a dangerous situation with small children close to the wheels of moving vehicles.

Absolutely NO throwing of candy or promotional items. Failure to comply will result in immediate removal from the parade by the police.

Q: How much does an entry cost?

A: Please go to www.kiwanis-srv.org/parade.asp for all the information.

Q: Where can I get an application?

A: Please go to www.kiwanis-srv.org/parade.asp for all the information.

Q: May I register to enter the parade on July 4th?

A: No. Pre-registration is required and no walk up registrations will be accepted.

Q: How long is the parade route?

A: It is 1.2 miles beginning at the northern intersection of Railroad Avenue and Hartz Avenue and extending south to Sycamore Valley Road.

Q: We are in the parade. What time should we arrive?

A: 9:00 – 10:45 am

Q: Where do we go for “staging”?

A: Please refer to the Parade Staging Area Map link at www.kiwanis-srv.org/parade.asp.

Q. What if we have a large trailer or float that will be hard to maneuver in the staging areas?

A. The southbound lanes of Danville Boulevard right in front of the high school are reserved for staging only those very large items that can't be staged in their assigned location.

Q: How is the order of the parade decided?

A: Our team of dedicated Kiwanis parade personnel selects and mixes the parade order to ensure a great experience for all.

Q: At the end of the parade route, where should we park our vehicles and trailers so that we can load up our floats, helicopters, tanks, etc. once the parade is over?

A: The section of San Ramon Valley Boulevard between the first Podva intersection and second Podva intersection will be available to park large trailers and the like along the curb. Please do not park large trailers or other vehicles on Podva where extensive reloading will block the return route for the buses carrying parade participants back to the start of the parade.

Q: Where is the parade reviewing stand?

A: Across the street from Danville Automotive & Tire at 535 San Ramon Valley Blvd.

Q: What are the parade categories for awards?
